Research Experience

Banco de México — Macroprudential Policy Division 2023–2024; 2026–present
Research Economist

Elaborated and tracked key policy requirements for the Basel III implementation process in the Mexican bank sector. Built and maintained a comprehensive database of Mexican banks' indicators that allows the implementation of early macroprudential measures. Participated in the elaboration of different policy documents, such as Banxico's semi-annual Financial Stability Report. Contributed to a joint Banxico–BIS survey on Emergency Liquidity Assistance (ELA) frameworks across central banks.

Centro de Estudios Espinosa Yglesias (CEEY) 2025–2026
External Consultant — Research and Project Coordination

Coordinated a 15-member team of former policymakers and senior academic researchers, led by R. Campos-Vázquez (Colmex), producing a collective volume on the 30th anniversary of the 1994–1995 financial crisis. Designed the qualitative research instrument, supervised the external fieldwork firm, and coauthored the closing chapter.

Banco de México — Board of Governors, Office of Deputy Governor Gerardo Esquivel 2022–2023
Research Economist

Prepared policy briefings and documents during the 2022–2023 tightening cycle ahead of the Board of Governors' meetings. Provided technical information for the Deputy Governor's public rate-decision justifications. Conducted research assistance on macroeconomics, particularly on high-frequency macroeconomic models, and processed household income-and-expenditure survey microdata.

Programa Universitario de Estudios del Desarrollo (PUED), UNAM 2021
Research Assistant

Prepared maps and figures, and reviewed draft chapters, for Informe del desarrollo en México: la perspectiva regional, coordinated by R. Cordera and E. Provencio; chapters covered fiscal coordination, productivity and wages, and educational disparities. Also cleaned and processed microdata from a household survey measuring the effects of the COVID-19 pandemic on employment, income, mental health, food security, and living conditions.
